

THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE FOR RETIREES (ACR)

CONDITIONS OF USE OF THE ACR WEBSITE

These terms and conditions govern the use of the ACR website, which is associated with the activities of the ACR and managed by the ACR Coordinator.

By using this site, you indicate that you have read and understood the terms of use and that you agree to abide by them at all times. If you do not wish to be bound by the terms of use set out below, immediately discontinue use of the ACR website.

Web Site Object

The purpose of the ACR website is to promote access to information and provide information tools to members of the Y9999-R group insurance plan. The content available on the ACR website is for information purposes only.

The ACR has no access to the members' insurance records. If you are seeking information about your situation, you should contact the Beneva insurer or the ACR coordinator, if necessary after contacting the insurer, using the information on the "Contact Us" page of the ACR website.

Intellectual property

All content published and made available on this site is the property of the ACR which falls within the organizational structure defined in its privacy policy. This includes everything that contributes to the composition of this site and is not limited to images, texts, logos, documents, downloadable files.

List of subscribers to ACR communications

When you register your email address from the ACR site, you agree to receive the ACR's informational communications. A clear and precise unsubscribe policy allows the subscriber to unsubscribe from the newsletter at any time. This policy is clearly identified in each regular submission of the newsletter or a consultation of the ACR.
